

Hi, I'm Jay

I'm a designer, art director and writer.
For me, writing is the art of thought,
and design is the art of communication.

With a strong foundation in digital design, I bring years of experience crafting digital and print campaigns, developing website strategies, running photo shoots and building engaging brand identities.

My expertise spans industries such as finance, cannabis, wine and spirits, automotive, entertainment, food and beverage, retail, and not-for-profit/charity.

With a focus on clear communication and thoughtful design, I ensure projects are delivered on time, within budget, and to a high standard.
